

Nordic Conference

Interdisciplinary perspectives on health, participation and effects of sport and exercise

Welcome

Dear Colleagues

The Institute of Sports Science and Clinical Biomechanics is honored to host the Nordic Conference 2010, which will take place from the 28th to the 30th of October 2010 at the University of Southern Denmark in Odense, Denmark.

The Nordic Conference 2010 focuses on interdisciplinary perspectives on health and sport. The purpose of the Conference, which was held for the first time at Halmstad University in 2008, is threefold:

1. To promote Nordic research and applied work related to health, adapted physical activity, sport and exercise.
2. To facilitate interdisciplinary perspectives in research and applied work related to health, adapted physical activity, sport and exercise.
3. To stimulate cooperation and networks between the Nordic countries in research and applied work related to health, adapted physical activity, sport and exercise.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee
