

UNIVERSITY OF STIRLING

Scotland's University for Sporting Excellence

Ph.D. studentship

University of Stirling

SCOTLAND, UK.

A University funded studentship is available to work with Professor Kevin Tipton who takes up his new post as Professor of Sport, Health and Exercise Science in Stirling in July. We are looking for a high quality student who holds a 1st class B.Sc. or Masters level degree and is interested to work in the area of protein metabolism.

If you are interested in applying please can you contact Dr. Stuart Galloway (s.d.r.galloway@stir.ac.uk) for further information. It is envisaged that the successful applicant will begin in September 2010. The studentship covers EU or overseas fees plus an annual stipend payment of £13,489.

Further information about the University Department is available on the following website:

www.sports.stir.ac.uk

Application deadline 15th March 2010